TEZU, Aug 25: "It's laudable that you readers have presented items to highlight our negligence towards clean neighbourhoods. But it is equally important to protect your minds and habits from pollution. Book Reading is an excellent protection to save you from such dangerous trends," advised CALSOM Tezu Block chairman Yalum Ama.

Ama was addressing the students, teachers, guests, government officers, and library volunteers during the 12th Annual Day celebrations of Bamboosa Library and the Lohit Youth Library Network (LYLN), here today.

Cautioning youths against addiction problems in Arunachal due to drugs and excessive use of mobile phone, Ama advised them to work for improving their lives by focussing on reading and realising the value of books.

He also advised parents to desist from giving minor children motorbikes that have been the cause of widespread loss of young lives in Arunachal.

The highlight of the celebration was the presentation of the prestigious Annual Awards: The Ranganatha Award for meritorious library services and educational motivation to the youth of Wakro circle.

The award was presented to APNE Library, Wakro, teacher-volunteer Kamlesh Raut. This award is in honour of two great figures of the Indian library scene, Swami Ranganathananda, and prof SR Ranganathan.

The Sister Nivedita Award for outstanding support to Bamboosa Library services and stimulating reading habits among the youth of Tezu was awarded to library mentor Jimu Mele, who is also an assistant engineer Anini.

Both awards are sponsored by a library patron from Pune. Several activists also received prizes from the guests.

Speaking at the event, Indira Gandhi Government College, Tezu, associate professor Dr Rajendra Babu succinctly explained why reading and possessing printed books is far more practical, prudent and healthy both for mind and eyes.

Applauding the award winners, he said that the silent and meticulous efforts put in by batch after batch of library volunteers have kept the library movement vibrant during the last 12 years. Recalling that he had been associated with Bamboosa Library from its very day of the inauguration, he assured that he would always be a part of the movement, even after moving to his home state.

Lohit Youth Library Network coordinator while highlighting its annual report informed that a children's book "Picture Gandhi" is coming out in five Arunachali languages on October 2. The book will be published in Adi, Apatani, Miju Mishmi, Nyishi and Nocte languages as well as in Bodo language by the reputed publishers Tulika Books, Chennai, he added while informing that eminent Arunachali elite of these languages are involved in the project.
