Joy of Reading for the Reading Deprived

the journey of a youth Library Movement in Arunachal

by Shri Sathyanarayanan Mundayoor, Scholar-in-Residence, IIT Gandhinagar

Saturday, 4th March 2023
11:00 AM

About the Speaker
Fascinated with the Khamti Movement, he is an educator and social activist working in North East India. Born in Kerala, Sathyanarayanan has been working in Arunachal Pradesh for the last 43 years. Known to build up reading habits among children, he has been working on 'read no challenge' in Arunachal since 1979. He would carry books in cartons along state transport buses, ferries, or trucks to reach the remote areas where there are no libraries. The Lohit Youth Library Network, a voluntary movement got started in 2007 in the name of 'The youth library movement of groups of children and their respective officials with Bahailu Rangmang as its founder-coordinator. So far, the Library Network has 13 unit libraries in places like Wamoi, Namtan, Noma, Lathou and the Hilly Areas. In recognition of his outstanding efforts in promoting a digital education in Arunachal Pradesh, he was awarded the Padma Shri in 2020.

About the session
Deeply concerned by the steep fall in the quality of educational standards in Arunachal, a group of committed book lovers decided to support the 'joy of reading' in the eastern Indian state of Arunachal. This was born into the Lohit Youth Library Network in 2007. The Library Network, with a vibrant team of youth 'bookshelves', has seen hearty appreciation from book lovers across the world. This is the inspirational story of how libraries can create 'readship' in communities.
